

Hello Caravaggio and Caravaggio maths!

I hope you have had a wonderful half term and have taken a more relaxed approach to home learning this previous week.

We have had some wonderful weather and my family has spent a lot of time in the gardens. As lockdown rules eased slightly, we also had our first family trips out of the house since March. We had a lovely early morning walk at Rainton Meadows and another early morning trip to the coast; we even managed to plodge in the sea – it was fantastically refreshing!

Next week will be strange, as we start slowly but surely allowing more children to return to school. I am looking forward to seeing all of our Y6 children over the next fourteen days. Y5 I am still missing you too and hopefully the situation will improve further, soon. The school has been open every week since you left, even during Easter and half term but it hasn't been the same without your excitement, energy and laughter.

See you soon Caravaggio – stay safe!

Mr Quinn
