

Hello to everyone in the Early Years

We hope that you all have had a lovely week with your families.

What super stars you have been once again!

We have seen some fantastic work on Twitter or via email and are very proud of you all. We have seen lovely phonics work, writing and spelling, heard about super star readers and fantastic mathematicians. Your artwork is amazing and as for baking! Delicious! We have also seen how wonderfully kind you are, some friends observing nature outdoors and some lovely signing to music.

Keep up the great work everyone. Your emails and photographs have brightened our days, so thank you so much for keeping in touch with us.

We hope you have enjoyed some of the activities we have planned for you but please remember we do not want you to worry and you can only do your best. Sharing stories and having fun outdoors are great ways to learn new things.

I have had another busy week. As well as working hard, I have been supporting Kit with his school jobs. He had to write an adventure story about the rainforest this week which he had fun planning. He has also been practising his spelling which he finds a bit tricky sometimes. We have had fun outdoors too, going for walks, playing football (again!) and playing with Kit's swing ball. I never manage to win.

Stay safe everyone,

Love from Mrs Brown

Hi everyone,

I hope you and all of your family are well.

This week I have received some fantastic emails, thank you so much for sharing all of your hard work with me. There has been some fantastic counting, brilliant reading and some lovely acts of kindness.

I know you are all working so hard and it is not possible for everyone to share their work, but I am very proud of you all.

This week I have been enjoying listening to different birds in my garden. We have had lots of different kinds and they all make different sounds. I think my favourite visitor is the little robin that visits daily.

I hope you have had a good week and have made some nice memories.

Hello friends!

So what has this week been like for you? The sun hasn't been out so much has it, have you been playing with your toys in the house? I have been playing some board games with my family, we like monopoly. We have done some puzzles and played some card games. We have still been out for our walk everyday, it's good to get some exercise and fresh air isn't it! Have you been out on your bikes or scooters?

I've been making some lovely food in my house this week too, things like cheesecake and brownies. My favourites!

Have you been helping your grownups to bake? If not why don't you give it a try this week, you could send us some pictures on Twitter.

Have lots of fun this week and stay safe everyone.

Hello everybody,

I hope you are all staying well and managing to keep yourselves entertained at home. This week in my house, the girls have been really busy doing their St Roberts school work. Some of it is quite tricky I've got to say! But we have managed to build in some fun stuff too. Evie has been practising her pastry skills when she has been baking and made some lovely cheese straws and chocolate straws. She has also been doing lots of drawings and sketches of different fruits for her art project. It was a good job my fruit bowl was full!

Chloe has enjoyed being creative too. She has been tie dying some white materials and old t-shirts. She made a brilliant job! She also enjoyed doing a back garden challenge for her PE lesson. She had to count her footsteps for 5 days and did an activity which involved completing an exercise workout using a set of playing cards. This was great fun and we all joined in and got moving. Maybe we could play a game like this when we are able to see each other next!

It is always a lovely surprise when I receive your emails and see your messages on twitter because I'm missing you all so much. So keep them coming and I hope to see you all soon.

Hello everyone,

I hope you and your families are well and enjoying the lovely weather.

As part of my son's art project this week he made a prayer card in the garden with natural materials, using stones, twigs and flowers. This is to celebrate May the month of Mary. It's beautiful he did really well.

Also this week my son has accomplished the skill of riding his BMX bike, he has done really well in the garden over the last few days so we went out on Saturday for his first bike ride. He was very proud of himself as was I. Have you gained a new skill? I can't wait to hear all about your achievements. We will have so much to catch up about.

I hope you are all staying safe and being very good for your grown ups.

Take care

Hello my lovely reception and nursery friends. I'm missing you all so much, I hope you're all having fun and staying safe. I have been in school this week and it was lovely to see some of our friends.

It's been another sunny week and this week Isaac's new swing arrived in the post. We attached it to the tree in our garden and he has loved swinging in it every day. I think he's really missing the park, maybe soon we'll have to get a slide!

Another exciting thing that arrived in the post was a bike seat for Isaac so he can ride along on the back of his daddy's bike. We've only had a little test in the street but hopefully next week we can all go out for a bike ride. Mrs Kebell hasn't been on her bike for a long time so I hope I can keep up with them! Have you been on any bike rides with your family?

I hope you have another lovely week at home. Keep looking after one another and keep smiling.

Lots of love
Mrs Kebell

Hello everyone,

I hope you have all had a good week and have enjoyed doing your home learning activities. Matthew and Martha have been busy doing their tasks too. Matthew did a quiz with his football team on Zoom and he loved seeing some of his friends. He has also been practising his football skills in the garden and is getting very good at the Cruyff Turn! We are still enjoying going for a walk everyday even if the weather is cooler.

Mrs Maher gave us some maths homework to do too. It was very interesting and it gave me lots of good ideas about how to use a ten frame to help with counting, adding and taking away. I know you were all very good at using a ten frame during our maths lessons at school.

I am still missing you all very much and think about you and your families every night when I say my prayers.

Stay safe

Love Mrs Young
