

Hello Picasso Class,

Its half term! It's also a bank holiday on Monday which feels odd. I hope you have been enjoying the hot weather. This week's activities are all about having fun and enjoying some well-earned time off from all of your hard work.

This week, I have been busy painting my living room and spare room. I managed to get most of the paint on the walls (not on my carpet). I have ordered some dining chairs and I am very excited for them to arrive. I have been enjoying taking some walks around Whitley Bay and Tynemouth, near where I live and I am planning to wake up early and see the sunrise one day next week.

All the bunnies are doing well. They have been eating a lot more than usual and I am frequently running out of hay! I have been making sure they are hydrated and eating fresh veggies in the hot weather. As it was Mental Health Awareness week last week, I baked some banana bread for my elderly neighbour as my kind act of the day. I have made sure to keep my brain healthy by drinking lots of water, reading some new books and finishing a Disney puzzle. It is my boyfriend's birthday in June and he has asked for a bonsai tree. I am going to hand paint a pot for it too to match our new living room.

I hope you are all happy and healthy at home. I was in school on Wednesday, learning about how to keep everyone safe in school during quarantine. It was lovely to see all of the staff again. I did feel sad walking into our empty classroom but saw all of your smiling faces in pictures on the wall and it made me smile. I miss you all and hope to see you all again soon.

I am seeing all of your continued hard work online on My Maths, Times Table Rockstars, Numbots and Twitter. You are all doing an amazing job and I am very proud of all of you. If you would like to send me a message, even if it is to just say hello, you can email me on: admin@olgoprimary.org.uk I will reply to all of your emails!

Stay safe, have courage and be kind!

Love,

Miss Mitchell
